

NEWFOUNDLAND & LABRADOR
employers'
CONFERENCE

2013 Conference
November 13-14
Sheraton Hotel, St. John's

Tim Powers
Vice-Chairman
Summa Strategies

Tim Powers is Vice-Chairman of Summa Strategies, a leading public affairs consulting firm, and the Chairman of Abacus Data, an opinion research company, both headquartered in Ottawa.

Originally from St. John's, Newfoundland, Mr. Powers began his career as an assistant and advisor to the Honourable John C. Crosbie, then Minister of Fisheries and Oceans. Thereafter, he acted as advisor to the Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development. Mr. Powers also served as the Director of Policy and Research to the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada.

Mr. Powers has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Memorial University of Newfoundland, a Master of Arts degree (Atlantic Canada Studies) from St. Mary's University, and a Master of Sciences degree (Media and Communications) from the London School of Economics. Mr. Powers has also studied Public Sector Management at Harvard University. Mr. Powers is also a media commentator, appearing frequently on CBC's "Power and Politics". He also does a twice weekly Ottawa report for VOXM in Newfoundland. As well, he writes for the Hill Times newspaper.

He is a member of the board of Rugby Canada and the Smiling Land Foundation.